

North Carolina Association of Colleges and Employers

NCACE invites you to join us as an exhibitor at our 2007 Annual Conference!

May 9 - 11, 2007 - Crowne Plaza Resort, Asheville

If your product or service can make college career services professionals and human resource managers more effective or efficient, then we invite you to participate in the 38th annual conference of the NC Association of Colleges and Employers, May 9 - 11, 2007, in Asheville.

Why exhibit at NCACE?

- Record of Excellence – NCACE is continually recognized as an outstanding organization dedicated to the professional development and building a productive network between colleges and universities and employers. This is our 38th annual conference.
- Brand/Product Recognition – The NCACE annual conference gives your organization the opportunity to showcase your product or services to a targeted audience of college/university career services and corporate human resource professionals. Three days of promotional opportunity and networking with potential clients at a great low cost.
- Quality Interactions – The NCACE annual conference is often the only professional development conference our members attend each year, and therefore it is our commitment to connect our members with exhibitors who have technologies, services, or products that can benefit their work. Our exhibitors are located in a high traffic area and the number of exhibitors is limited to ten. Exhibitors are invited to attend our programs, meals and join in the networking activities, to assist in developing better relationships with potential customers.

Reserve your space early! The “early bird” exhibitor fee is $400 if booked and paid in full by March 2, 2007. Exhibitor requests will be accepted after March 2 at a fee of $500 if space is available. Your exhibitor fee includes a six-foot table, two chairs and complete conference registration (all meal events, breaks and sessions) for one representative. Each additional representative pays the Non-Member conference registration fee of $160.

Our success in keeping the NCACE membership informed of “new tools of the trade” depends on our ability to attract you and your organization to our annual conference as an exhibitor. Please consider sharing your products or services with NCACE May 9 - 11, 2007 in Asheville.
